KENTUCKIAN TO BE DISTRIBUTED BY BOOK STORE

Year-book Will Appear on U. K. Campus Early Next Week

ANNUAL IS EDITED BY JOHN W. DUNDON

Several Unique Features Are Incorporated in Official Senior Class Publication

Each year, a yearbook is published by the senior class of the University. This spring the 1929 Kentuckian, official annual of the University, published by this year's senior class, has arrived from the printer, and soon will be ready for distribution. "It is unusual for an annual to be completed in such short order and, in fact, the book this year holds the record as to early advent upon the campus," according to John W. Dundon, Jr., editor.

Jess C. Laughlin, Kentuckian business manager, stated yesterday that books would be ready for distribution some time the early part of next week. The books will be put on sale in the Campus book store, and all seniors can procure their copies by presenting University receipts for senior class dues. The chances are, according to those in authority, that the available supply of Kentuckians to undergraduates will fall far short of the demand, and the old rule of first come, first served, will apply.

The Kentuckian of 1929 is edited by John W. Dundon, Jr., a senior in the College of Arts and Sciences, who is a member of the Alpha Tau Omega fraternity. Jess C. Laughlin, senior in the College of Engineering, is the business manager. He is well known in the engineering college, and is a member of Triangle fraternity. The junior staff is composed of Virgil L. Couch, junior editor, Alpha Tau Omega, and J. Henry Lewis, junior business manager, Sigma Alpha Epsilon.

The cover of the annual is in black elephant grain leather, with an appropriate design on the front, embossed in gold, fitting in with the theme of the book. This year the Kentuckian has for its theme another period in the history of the state. The book opens with a representation of the end-sheet, of a Confederate officer returning to his old southern mansion, to find it in ruins. The art theme then carries on throughout the entire reconstruction period of the south. The book is dedicated to Henry Watterson, former editor of the Courier-Journal, which he established shortly after the Civil War ended.

There are numerous features in the book heretofore not incorporated in any Kentuckian. There are three distinct border designs, one for the view section, another for the senior class section, and the regular design for the remainder of the book.

W. A. A. TO GIVE 'PLAY DAY' FOR STATE COLLEGES

Delegates From Seven Kentucky Schools Expected Tomorrow

BOTH U. K. GYMS WILL BE USED FOR MEET

Cage Ball, Bat Ball, Relays, and Other Games, Are Scheduled

The Women's Athletic Association of the University is sponsoring a Play Day tomorrow in which approximately one hundred delegates from seven colleges in Kentucky are expected to participate. Both the Men's and Women's gymnasiums will be used and the programs will last all afternoon, climaxed at 6:30 o'clock by the fourth annual W. A. A. banquet at the Lafayette hotel.

Play Day is comparatively new in the South, but colleges in the East and West, particularly California, have found it a splendid substitute for the varsity competition that most have abandoned. It permits friendly intercourse without the strain and intense rivalry of the varsity girl athletics.

The colleges and normal schools which will be represented are Transylvania, Georgetown, University of Louisville, Kentucky Wesleyan, Kentucky College for Women, Eastern and Bowling Green Teachers.

The general plan of the Play Day is to play with the colleges instead of against them, and for this the participants are distributed equally into eight groups, which compete against each other in cage ball, bat ball, and relays. For novices the individual challenge system will be

The third quarterly meeting of the University board of trustees was held Tuesday morning at 11:30 o'clock in President McVey's office. Fifteen members of the board were present.

The first move made was to examine and pass on the annual budget for the University for next year. The statement of expenditures of the University was presented by the president and faculty to the board.

In the second action the board authorized the University to start the construction of the Library building. University officials are going to advertise for bids for the construction work, and they are expected to be received by the board at the next quarterly meeting.

The third action was the routine appointments in which Mrs. P. K. Holmes was appointed assistant dean of women.

The library is a long deferred ambition of the University necessitated by the increase and number of volumes in the library and the growth of the student attendance. In many older institutions there are three stages of development in library buildings. The first building soon becomes too small, the second

COME ON HOME

Below is a blank to be filled out by the members of the different classes that are to hold class reunions this year. We are mailing this blank to every member of these several classes. We are requesting that every person receiving one of these blanks fill it out and return it at once. The arranging of class reunions and the annual homecoming is difficult at the very best and a prompt reply will aid the local committee in their undertaking.

Every graduate and former student of the University is included in the programs for the Commencement period and if you are not a member of one of the classes holding a reunion but still intend to return, fill out the following blank and send it in. Next year all the classes in either "0" or "5" will hold anniversary reunions. The officers of these classes are especially urged to attend the reunion this year so that they may get an idea of what we are trying to do.

If you can come back please fill out the following blank and return it at once. The officers of the Association can assure you a pleasant time during the Commencement season.

"THE KENTUCKY ALUMNUS"

With the next issue of The Kernel the Alumni Association will discontinue using that publication as its organ. In its stead will be published "The Kentucky Alumnus," a monthly magazine devoted entirely to Alumni and University affairs. It is to be patterned after the publications of alumni associations in other large universities and colleges. This change, as we have pointed out before, is necessary for our growth and development. While The Kernel is one of the outstanding student newspapers published in the United States it still remains a student publication and should not be hampered by the Alumni Association. We, as an association, need our own publication.

In publishing The Kentucky Alumnus the officers of the Alumni Association are taking upon themselves more work and responsibility, but in view of the fact that it is a step forward for the Association and the University they feel that the added work and responsibility will be well worth their effort.

The field is new to us and the undertaking will be filled with unforeseen difficulties. It will take time to perfect the magazine and during this time we beg the indulgence of the faithful members of the Association who will receive it every month.

COMMITTEE GIVES CLASS PROGRAM

Class Reunion Will Be Held Saturday, June 1; Complete Calendar of Events for Alumni Is Announced.

The local committee of Alumni, who have been working on plans for the class reunions and annual homecoming of Alumni, have completed the plans and the program for the various events have been announced.

The committee in charge of the program and arrangements has given considerable time and thought to the matter and feel that the program which has been arranged will be one that will interest every Alumni who returns to the campus this spring for the reunions and annual homecoming.

While special attention has been given to those classes who will hold anniversary reunions this year, all the graduates and former students of the University of Kentucky are included in the plans. While your class will not be represented in the reunion group you are included in all the events named on the program.

This week a copy of the program, together with a short letter and a card to be mailed to the Alumni office, is being sent to every member of the classes to hold reunions. In case that any member of any of the classes already named does not receive this letter the committee has asked the editors of this page to publish the program. They also request any of you who fail to receive the letter to fill out the blank in the first column of this page and mail it to the campus. If you are not a member of any of the classes holding a reunion but plan to return during the commencement program, fill out the blank just the same.

This year the plan of reunions which has been adopted will be inaugurated and the committee in charge is sparing no effort to make them a success. A local committee from each class has been appointed and these committees will take care of the special class activities that are planned. The program for the

MAGAZINE WILL APPEAR MAY 15

The Kentucky Alumnus Will Replace Kernel as Official Publication of the Alumni Association.

The long awaited publication of an Alumni magazine by the Alumni Association of the University of Kentucky now is near at hand. The complete arrangements have been made and the new publication will be off the press May 15. You will receive your copy just as soon as it can be sent to you.

The name "Kentucky Alumnus" has been chosen for the new publication. While the magazine in all its departments is new, the name, as older Alumni know, is not new. That was the name of the publication of the Alumni association before The Kernel was used.

The new magazine will be patterned after the Alumni publications of other universities and colleges and will be one that every Alumnus will be proud to show to his friends and associates. It will contain all the news that will be of interest to the members of the Alumni association and none of the reading matter that is uninteresting to those who have been away from the campus for a long time.

While The Kernel as a medium for the Alumni association was a good one, it has been outgrown by the University and the Alumni association. The Kernel is purely a student affair and should not be hampered by any Alumni interference. The Alumni association should have an organ that is unhampered and unbiased by student affairs and student viewpoint. The single page that obtained the Alumni news is not sufficient for our association, if we, as an association, expect to grow and expand.

The first issue will be dedicated to William Benjamin Munson, who was the first graduate of the University of Kentucky. He received his B. S. degree in 1869, and always has been an interested and active member of the association. The Kentucky Alumnus will contain many other interesting features that will not be mentioned at this time but will be shown to a better advantage when the first issue is received by the active members of the association. The next issue of The Kernel will be the last that the Alumni association will send out as its official publication.

KENTUCKY KERNEL PLATFORM

University Expansion . . . . . A Campus Beautiful
Dissemination of University News to Kentucky
Strict Observance of Laws and By-Laws
Better Scholarship

THE PLATFORM

In order that the students, faculty and alumni of the University may know definitely the attitude which The Kentucky Kernel takes toward major University problems which arise from time to time, the platform that appears above has been devised. It is a variable platform, and will be changed whenever some particular act or situation deserves notice. However, if one or more of the policies are dropped from the platform, it must not be taken for granted that it has been dismissed forever. It may reappear.

The Kentucky Kernel is a newspaper published by the journalists of the University. As such, it must take decisive stands on behalf of the student body. It must interpret the problems and news of the day. A paper is not a symbol of political influence, nor of the opinion of any select group. Instead, it serves an impartial function. Whenever decisive attitudes are taken, they represent those which the editors have discovered to be best for student welfare and University growth.

There are several things that a paper will always do. It will protect the innocent and guiltless from undue oppression at the hands of despotic persons. It will cry out for the punishment of all people who violate laws and by-laws, for those laws are requisite to the welfare of organized achievement and society in general. A paper will not lower itself to the promotion of worthless propaganda, nor will it remain passive while others spread that propaganda. The public, whether it is composed of a group of students or of the ordinary populace, is entitled to the truth, always, and a fair interpretation of current events. Furthermore, all those improvements which benefit the majority of people deserve exploitation, with the advantages set forth in no uncertain terms. All of this goes to make up the editorial policy of a newspaper.

The Kernel, as the official publication by and for the student body, intends to follow the journalist's attitudes as listed above. It will be fearless in denunciation as well as commendation, always taking the view that the University and general welfare of the students should overshadow minor issues. Minor issues will be neglected only so long as they fail to form subsidiary benefits to major progress.

The Kernel solicits honest and fair criticism, whether constructive or destructive, unaccompanied by tiresome redundancy and sarcastic verbiage. It is a well known axiom that a true decision cannot be reached until all questions have been fully discussed. Cooperation in discussion will lead to decisions made in the future, when The Kernel takes a stand for or against some problem of the day.

In order that every one may know the stand taken by The Kernel, a comprehensive editorial will be printed each time an addition or change is made in the platform, but the step will not be taken until all the highways and byways of the situation have been fully discussed by the editorial board and comments received from the students and faculty. Then, an unbiased opinion will be delivered and thenceforth it will be upheld. The policies named at the top of the editorial column this week have been discussed fully before, not only editorially but through letter comments, and should present no special problem to constructive thought.

The Kernel hopes to lead the way in the present march to a greater University, to a larger student body, and in the meantime, to aid in preserving those attainments which have been heretofore developed by the sons and daughters of Kentucky.

THE KERNEL — A DAILY

University students have expressed disappointment in the inability of The Kernel to print all of the news which might be found on the campus. Everyone expects this paper, an eight page weekly, to contain a news summary of all University events for the week. This task approaches the impossible. Lack of space each week works a great hardship upon all of the members of The Kernel staff who are putting forth diligent effort toward the presentation of all the University news.

The growth of any student publication should be in direct proportion to the University which it represents. An exception should not be made in the case of The Kentucky Kernel. Many colleges and universities much smaller than our own University profit by the publication of a daily paper. University activities have reached the magnitude where enough material can be obtained for a daily. Organization of a suitable staff to publish such a paper can easily be obtained from the long list of students interested in the publication of The Kernel. The situation has reached that state where The Kernel must either be greatly enlarged if it continues as a weekly paper, or it should be changed into a daily.

A community of 2,500 people now exists upon the University campus and this group can maintain and be greatly benefited by a daily paper. University progress should not be hindered in any way. If a daily publication will help in the attainment of this ideal it should be adopted.

SIGMA DELTA CHI

Sigma Delta Chi, international professional journalistic fraternity, was founded at DePaw University, April 17, 1909. This week, each of the forty-three chapters in this country and Canada, have celebrated the twentieth anniversary of the founding of the fraternity with appropriate banquets and celebrations.

From the beginning of the fraternity, twenty years ago, the organization has expanded, and now is one of the largest and most widely recognized groups in the professional field. From the outset, the fraternity had as its sole aim the raising of the standards of the profession of journalism, and the banding together of leading editors and writers throughout the entire nation. By joining these men together in the true fraternity spirit and inspiring them with common ideals, a larger spirit of idealism could be injected into the press of the nation. At first, Sigma Delta Chi was purely an honorary organization. However, the far-sighted members knew, in order to carry out of true ideals of the fraternity, that the group must be continued on more practical bases, and that a fraternity conducted along professional lines would develop into a power in the newspaper world of the future. Therefore, in 1916, Sigma Delta Chi became wholly a professional organization.

The earlier years of the fraternity history were marked by much dissension among the chapters. As in every new project, Sigma Delta Chi had to work out its own salvation, and numerous and weighty were the propositions that had to be handled. In 1912, the first issue of the national publication, "The Quill," was issued. At first, it was a very modest publication, since no definite plans had been worked out, and the fraternity was not financially able to support a pretentious publication. However, in later years, the leading men in the organization worked out an endowment plan. It was put into effect, and this year, for the first time, "The Quill" became a self-sustaining magazine. Due to wise selection of editors, and the endowment plan, the magazine has grown to be the power that it now is in modern journalism. Most of the prominent journalists of the country are subscribers, and in each issue, topics of national interest are printed. "The Quill" has promulgated, through its editorials and discussions of various phases of journalism, the ideals in modern newspaper publishing which the fraternity has stood for throughout its entire existence.

In the fall of 1926, an earnest group of students at the University of Kentucky decided to form a press club with the express purpose of petitioning and obtaining a charter from Sigma Delta Chi. At the national convention that fall, the group, then known as the Henry Waterson Press Club, presented its petition and was granted admission into the fraternity. The Kentucky chapter was formally installed on the evening of February 27, 1927. Edwin V. O'Neil, now National Secretary and editor of the Indianapolis Times, was the installing officer. He had been a member of the Indiana chapter, and was greatly interested in establishing a chapter at his neighboring state's university.

The advent of Sigma Delta Chi was not heralded with any great amount of public rejoicing at Kentucky, but the chapter was industrious, and soon made its presence known on the campus. On April 29, the first group of pledges were initiated. Although Kentucky chapter has been established only two years, in that space of time it has established itself, both financially and as a fraternity. "The Kampus Kat," humorous publication of the chapter, was conceived and made into a reality. At the last national convention, the Kampus Kat was given official recognition and was considered as one of the best publications of its nature in the country. At the same time, Kentucky chapter was named as one of the twelve most efficient chapters in the national organization.

This week, the Kentucky chapter held its annual spring initiation and banquet in conjunction with the celebration of the twentieth anniversary of the founding of the fraternity. At this time, several of the outstanding editors of the state were taken in as associate members. With such an auspicious start, and such remarkable growth in the extremely short space in which the chapter has been an entity at Kentucky, there seems to be a wonderful opportunity to gain national recognition for Kentucky's journalists and to bring honor to the University.

COLLEGE COMMENT

Imagine the plight of five Emory University students trapped in the middle of a long tressel in front of a fast approaching express train. They all lived through it, however, by hanging by their hands over the side of the bridge work.

High school students at Rushville, Ky., wanted to give their student publication an original name so they labeled it the "Spitterinkunt." Try and sneeze it.

THEATER REVIEWS

(By Edwards M. Templin)

Listen, folks! Lexington has a new theater, and take it from me, it is a "wow." It may be smaller than the other movie palaces of this "great town," but its equipment makes up for the lack of size. A cooling system which is a counterpart of the one used in Loew's theater at Louisville, will be used to keep the atmosphere in the new theater at a comfortable temperature. A beautiful degree of Spanish architecture is carried out entirely in the new structure. The main auditorium is arranged in the form of a Spanish garden, with a mass of grayish clouds moving across the deep blue sky. Lighting effects are used to affect the clouds which move incessantly across the dome of the building. Brilliant colored air cushioned chairs will seat 550 people.

"Trial Marriage" with Sally Ellers will open the State Saturday at 6 o'clock. Al Jolson will be master of ceremonies through the Vitaphone in opening the playhouse, and he will introduce a number of movie stars under Warner Brothers' contract. An all-talking comedy, "Zip, Bang, Boom" will also be on the bill.

Ben Ali Sunday

"Fugitives," with Madge Bellamy cast in the star role, will open at the Ben Ali Sunday. The picture shows night-life in two continents. It also portrays that the blindness of justice can be cured by love.

A very breezy stage show, "What Girls Will Do," will be presented by Seeman Players along with news reels and a good comedy.

Kentucky Sunday

With the successful "Able's Irish Rose" as proof of their prowess at things romantic, Charles "Buddy" Rogers and Nancy Carroll will again be brought to gether in a motion picture, this time in "Close Harmony" which comes to the Kentucky theater for a four-day run on Sunday. "Close Harmony" is the story of life backstage, behind the scenes in vodvil and musical comedy, based on adventures of Elsie Janis. "Sweetheart of the A. E. F."

Strand Sunday

The first voice to be recorded on the United Artists sound stages was that of Douglas Fairbanks in the talking prologue to his new picture, "The Iron Mask," opening Sunday at the Strand theater. Fairbanks as the valiant D'Artagnan will open the story of "The Iron Mask" by stepping from a huge tapestry representing The Three Musketeers and speak the prelude to this story.

A vision come true

In a part of Africa little known to the whites, where obscure trails ran, Cecil Rhodes dared to envision a railroad. He lived to build it.

The railroad itself was part of a vaster dream, a dream of a far inland colony linked fast to existing coast settlements by rail and wire communication. And he lived to build Rhodesia.

First the dream, then the reality, is the rule with telephone men too, as they work to greater heights of service. But in between, they know, must come periods of careful planning and smooth coordination of many elements.

Scientific research, manufacturing, plant construction, commercial development, public relations, administration—many varied telephone activities offer a widening opportunity to practical-minded visionaries.

Unique Costumes To Be Presented In Guignol Play

Costumes for the next Guignol presentation, "The Flight of the Duchess," will play a large part in the success of the production which will open the night of April 29. Elaborate royal robes of the 13th and 15th centuries are being made, under the direction of Mrs. W. F. Gallo-way, which are authentic copies of the costumes worn in those periods and which will add much to the effectiveness of the staging of this dramatization of the poem by Robert Browning.

The play, as it will be given at the Guignol theater under the direction of Frank C. Fowler, is an original translation by Prof. W. F. Galloway of the English department, from the Italian drama by the same name, and is the first time that it has been produced in this country.

Prof. G. K. Brady, of the English department, as a cruel and powerful Duke, who clings to tradition and his love of the old regime, will appear, together with his attendants, in the dress of the 13th century, while the moderns of the court will represent the 15th century in their costumes. This contrast should provide an added interest and lovers of the beautiful will find much in this ancient atmosphere to gratify them.

Gibson Funeral Services Are Held

University Honor Man Dies
at Pittsburgh; Spoke Often to Students

Funeral services were held last week for William Gibson, railroad official and manufacturer, who died at his home, 1509 Shady avenue, Pittsburgh, Pa. Although in good health until within the last few weeks he had never recovered from the loss of his only son, William Lawrence Gordon Gibson, who was killed at Rolling Rock in September, 1925, when he was thrown from a horse.

Mr. Gibson, a native of Scotland and a graduate of the University of Edinburgh, received an honorary Doctor of Laws degree from the university in 1913. He made annual visits to the University for 25 years and lectured to each graduating class over a period of 20 years.

These lectures have been collected into three volumes under the titles, "Letters to My Son," and are kept by Dean F. Paul Anderson, dean of the College of Engineering.

PROF. KNIGHT REVIEWS BOOK

The Bookman for April contains a review, by Prof. Grant C. Knight, of Luck LeBlond's Cable Bikes' "George W. Cable: His Life and Letters." Mr. Knight was asked to review this biography of the first maker of literature of the new south because of his interest in that period when James Lane Allen was one of the most popular writers. Recently Professor Knight has also contributed to The Nashville Tennessean and The Saturday Review of Literature.

Whither away, Sir Knight?

There's a knightly warrior, immortalized by Mr. Stephen Leacock, who under the stress of intense excitement "mounted his horse and rode away in all directions." Whether he ever arrived is not recorded.

To us, this giddy hero is a perfect example of how not to make cigarettes. We hold that a cigarette is a smoke, and a good smoke is a blessing, so to that end alone have Chesterfields been ripened, blended and manufactured.

Mild as they are, not a jot of the true, rich tobacco flavor has been lost. When the best tobaccos on the market are bought you can be certain they'll deliver the taste. Chesterfields are as natural as a field of sweet clover; and they satisfy the taste superlatively well, always!

Once a man has checked up on the above pleasant news, there'll be no "riding away in all directions" for him!

A monthly book review, given by a faculty member of the English department of the University, will be given particular emphasis in the daily radio programs broadcast from the University remote control station through radio station WHAS at Louisville. It has been announced by Elmer G. Sulzer, director of the University Publicity Bureau.

The first book review will be given Thursday, April 25, by Prof. L. L. Dantzler, head of the English department, from 12:45 to 1 o'clock in the afternoon. It will be followed each month by a similar program.

The complete program for the University remote control station, which has just finished its fourth successful week, for the week beginning Monday, April 22, is as follows:

Monday, April 22, from 12:45 to 1 p. m., "Healthy Sheep, Healthy Lambs," Prof. R. C. Miller; "The Mexican Bean Beetle," Prof. J. S. Gardner, both of the College of Agriculture.

Tuesday, April 23, from 12:45 to 1

p. m., "The Settlement of Kentucky," "Coming Into the Wilderness," Mrs. W. T. Lafferty, secretary of Woman's Club Service.

Wednesday, April 24, 12:45 to 1 p. m., "Raising Nice Apples," Prof. A. J. Olney; "When to Plow Under Green Manure Crops," Prof. P. E. Karraker, both of the College of Agriculture.

From 10 to 11 o'clock Wednesday night the University Concert Band will render a number of selections under the direction of Elmer G. Sulzer.

Thursday, April 25, from 12:45 to 1 p. m., "Monthly Book Review," Prof. L. L. Dantzler, head of the English department.

Friday, April 26, from 12:45 to 1 p. m., "What Farm Folks are Asking," Prof. N. R. Elliott, of the College of Agriculture.

'CATS WILL MEET
VANDY ON TRACK

Thomasson Unable to Participate in Contest Tomorrow; Kentucky Defeated Commodores Last Year.

Vanderbilt cinder artists are here for their dual track engagement with the Wildcats at 2 o'clock tomorrow afternoon on Stoll field. Last year Kentucky defeated the Commodores in their meet by a 59-58 count. This year Vandy has an even stronger team than the one which took the field in 1928.

Wayman Thomasson, Kentucky's star half and quarter-miler, will be unable to participate on account of the recent death of his father. This hurts Kentucky's chances considerably as Coach Shively was counting on Thomasson to win both of these events. He was also scheduled to run in the mile relay.

Such stars as Owens, McLane, Urevig, Captain Kavanaugh, Jones, Cochran, Harris and others will be fighting for Kentucky. These Wildcats should give the Vandy team all that it is looking for and probably a little more.

In the recent Tech relays, Vanderbilt came second in the mile relay and finished well up among the leaders in the four-mile race. They have a sprinter, Sharpe, who does the century run in 10 flat. McNamara heaves the shot for a distance of about 40 feet, and Gibson has been putting a full 125 feet between himself and the discus. The Nashville boys are also especially good in the quarter, the mile and the two-mile runs.

Kentucky Team to Enter Golf Tourney

Now that the University Athletic Council has recognized golf as a minor sport, plans are being completed for a tournament to be held next week for the purpose of selecting a team to represent the University in the Southern Golf Tournament to be held at Asheville, N. C., about June 1. Fifteen men will compose the squad from which the team of four or six will be picked to form the team.

The team is expected to play several matches this spring with schools in the Southern Conference and the Athletic Council has consented to award letters and numerals. The coaching will be done by Professor Jones, head of the political science department.

All men who can play are eligible and are requested to see Kenneth Larnee, chairman of the entrance committee. An entrance fee of two dollars will be charged. Winners and runners up will receive handsome trophies. Those in charge of the tournament say that there is some excellent material on the campus and there is no reason why a good team cannot be developed.

NEW MAGAZINE PUBLISHED

A new magazine, to be called "Manuscripts," and published by Willis H. Kinnear at Indianapolis, will be of interest to college students. The paper is in the market for student writing only, and wishes short stories, poems, and essays, for which it will pay upon acceptance. For further information see Prof. Grant C. Knight.

Gentlemen:
Just a line to let you know where some of your tobacco has been going for the last ten years.

I have been smoking Edgeworth for the past ten years; in fact, since I started smoking, and it is just as good now as it was then. Have given other brands a fair trial, but there is none like Edgeworth. During that time I have had costly pipes and some not so costly, but I have decided that it is not the pipe but what is in it that counts.

With best wishes for your continued success in the manufacture of this high grade tobacco, I am,

Sincerely,

IT WON'T BE LONG NOW. AND THE PAUSE THAT'S COMING MAY NOT BE SO REFRESHING AS SOME OTHERS WE KNOW OF.

The moral is to avoid situations where it is impossible to pause and refresh yourself—because whenever you can't is when you most wish you could. Fortunately, in normal affairs there's always a soda fountain or refreshment stand around the corner from anywhere with plenty of ice-cold Coca-Cola ready. And every day in the year 8 million people stop a minute, refresh themselves with this pure drink of natural flavors and are off again with the zest of a fresh start.

with difficulty during the past

The courts have been crowded with varsity men and students who are preparing for the intra-mural

Mauer will have no difficulty in selecting his battery as he has only one pitcher and two catchers. Bou-ran the distance in 8:12 as com-follows suit, while the third, built extremely large, has adequate room. The aim of the University is to eliminate the second stage.

Plans which have been adopted by the board of trustees have been under consideration for about three years and have been submitted to the best librarians for inspection. The building is to be constructed in two units, the first of which is to be built as soon as possible and the second is to be constructed when it is necessary.

When the library is completed there will be room for 1,250,000 volumes of books. There are to be reading rooms, work rooms, and seminar rooms, which are for the purpose of holding small advanced classes. The first unit will take care of 240,000 volumes as well as provide three large reading rooms, document rooms and work rooms for the library staff.

The building will be located north of the C and P building and is to be four stories in height.
